

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the cost to be in NPAT?

The program is free.

Who can participate in NPAT?

Anyone who is pregnant or has a child under the age of 6.

Does my child have to have a delay or a problem to be in NPAT?

No. All families are welcome.

Are parent educators part of DHS?

No. Parent educators are certified by National Parents As Teachers and are a part of Norman Public Schools.

Do visits have to be in my home?

No. Parent educators will meet with you where you feel comfortable. Visits can also take place at Jackson Elementary.

Can I just come to Stay and Play?

No. Stay and Play is only one part of the NPAT Program.

Does my child have to receive a developmental screening?

Yes. This is a program requirement. The screening is a tool used to look at overall development.

What if I enroll but my name is on the waitlist?

As soon as a family enrolls, they can attend Stay and Play, Parent Group Meetings, and have access to check-out materials. Once there is an opening, a parent educator will begin visits.
